

Silence in my dreams

Demons with glass body parts
You came into the wrong world
My mind isn't all I made it out to be
I awake in the night
I wake screaming bloody murder
People believe they have me worked out
Funny that
Not even I have me worked out
So how have you worked me out when I can't even work myself out?
The silence kills me
But I can't live without it
I walk in library's full of empty books
I could fill the pages
But I walk away
I no longer believe in letting in others
You see you're in my nightmares
My demons chase you not me
I hear the screams of lost souls
I want to be in side of life
Not outside looking in
Glass walls don't make secure prisons
All it takes is pure hate
Pure strength
To smash the glass walls in this glass prison
My mind is a wonder
I've fallen
I've destroyed all I loved
I'm forever cursed
Cursed in ways the human mind cannot think
Broken mirrors are gifts
The demon made of glass
Is about to be smashed in to bits
So stand back
The silence in my dreams
That's a story
A story I'm not ready to tell of yet
I was close
Now I'm far from that
The nightmares as a kid
Aren't nothing to the nightmares of an adult
Silence in my dreams
I pray for that to go away
