

The painkiller nightmare 2: overdose

I did as I said
I brought horror to the happy simple it's all well life
I never got to be alone so I built noemergencyexit
Now I don't fall to the ground
It was funny
How I allowed myself to be addicted to oxymorphine
Only for it to put me at ease for an hour or two Fuck what the people say
The world needs to burn
Understand you know nothing on horror
You are pitiful inside
I refused to die anymore
Who would thought dilaudid 4mg would turn out so shit
All like the rare black smarty
Shads' proofed me wrong; he won the battle and killed the war
The angels now sit on the side lines as they watch me evolve into something i would fear if i were right in the head
Take it from me
An overdose of tramadol is so much fun
I toss them all the way down
Inferno after inferno
Its my plan to set fire to the worlds that allow people like me to live
So as i take six years worth of oxymorphine
I hope to god i get to meet him in person
I have a list of mistakes to fix and telling him its not fair is on that list
I never wanted to be this mistake
The only thing that makes me think is failing is weak
Someone out there needs me
And because of them
I scream at the blues and welcome home the painkiller nightmare 2 with open arms
