

Candle wax soldiers

I walked away but I had too
The shit I was told it was going to destroy me
I hung around like a fool
Every day since I lit candles looking into the flame
With the dripping wax I made an army
I found the truth hidden away
It was never something to do with me
It was all the bullshit I had been told

I walked away once again
I left it all behind
Friends
Family
The only thing I took with me was
My tattoos
My chains
My will not to snap

But that never walked along side me
My will it turned to a skill
I used my anger in the wrong ways
I should have aimed and fought the right side
But no I turned on my army

A loyal soldier is easy to find
But to see if they are really who they say they are
That's a different story
Candle wax soldiers loyal to the grave
From wick to wax in a matter of hours

By
Shadow

